About the Book

The Secret Fawn beautifully captures the power of nature to inspire children and shows how connecting with animals can help kids who feel left out or overlooked.

A little girl is always missing out on the wonderful things her family gets to see and do, just because she is the youngest and smallest. She misses seeing shooting stars because she goes to bed too early; she can't pick the first apple of autumn because she's too short; and, this morning, everyone else got to see a deer . . . except her. The girl goes in search of the deer, a sugar cube tucked in her pocket. What she finds may not be what she's looking for, but it's something even more special.

- Is there something you're looking forward to doing when you grow up that you can't do now?
- What is something that only you can do but the older people in your life cannot do?
- Do you have a younger sibling? How do you make them feel special about being small?
