ABOUT THE BOOK

In Tim's world, cats paint on the ceiling, pigs can wait months for the bus and a duck and a mouse can fly . . . a plane, that is! In this picture book anthology of four mostly wordless stories, every character is colorful and cool, and every page is an adventure!

Doug and Mouse, a plucky duck and mouse duo, embark on a journey around the world by plane . . . boat . . . horse . . . even a jungle vine will do, as long as they're home in time for pizza! Meanwhile, Tim the cat lives his nine lives to the fullest, and Connie the rabbit follows her line of inquiry wherever it leads. And all this time, Mr. and Mrs. Hamhock wait patiently for the bus, only to realize that they've forgotten something important at home!

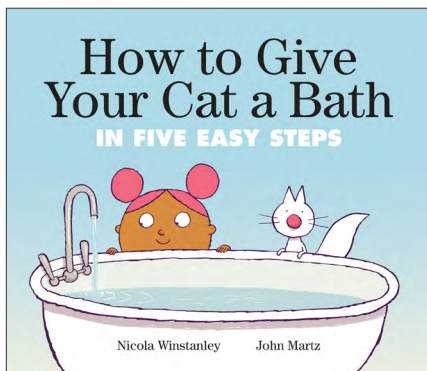

KEEP THE CONVERSATION GOING

Here are some ideas, activities and questions to consider after you've read the book:

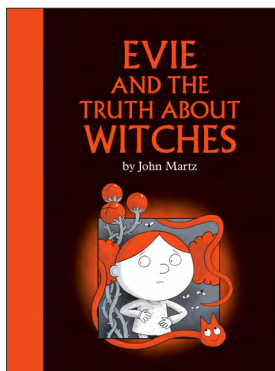

- There aren't many words in this book, except for some speech bubbles and sound effects. Do you like stories and books without words? Why or why not?
- Look up the saying, "a picture is worth a thousand words." What does it mean? Choose an image from the book and come up with ten words to describe it.
- Imagine throwing a party with all the characters, like the one in Connie's story. What are some activities and food you think your guests might enjoy?
